Social Security Claiming Strategies
Helping plot the course to a better retirement

About Us

The Corporation for Social Security Claiming Strategies is the creator and provider of the training course for the Certified in Social Security Claiming Strategies (CSSCS) designation. Our organization is the only comprehensive retirement income training organization in the financial services industry dedicated exclusively to educating professionals on the nuances of Social Security retirement planning.

With corporations eliminating more than 84,000 pension plans since 1985, over a decade of unprecedented and ongoing market volatility, a Social Security system that has over 2,000 filing rules and a government workforce prohibited from dispensing advice, the ability to offer true expertise on the topic of when and how to develop a Social Security filing strategy is paramount to helping retirees remain financially viable throughout retirement.

The CSSCS certification program is designed to provide professionals, whether financial, legal, human resource or otherwise, with the deep foundational knowledge needed to help clients, regardless of circumstance, find the most effective Social Security retirement claiming strategy available to them.

Our paramount goal is to provide our students with a working knowledge of the myriad of factors that play a role in determining how retirees can achieve the maximum benefit available to them from Social Security and, in so doing, provide a solid foundation upon which an overall retirement income plan can be built.

With a system many claim has hundreds, thousands or even millions of possible filing combinations, we believe the mere knowledge of 7 or 8 “simple secrets” to Social Security coupled with access to calculators that render maximum lifetime benefit and breakeven points is not enough to accurately advise clients on the claiming strategy that is right for them, nor is it a sufficient basis upon which a lifetime income plan should be built.

Moreover, clients today approach the topic of retirement income planning with a keen awareness of the issues surrounding their finances and are looking not just for answers about what may be their next steps. Rather, today’s savvy retirees demand a specific, detailed explanation as to how and why a recommended plan will work. This course has been designed to empower you as an advisor to answer those difficult questions.

The Corporation for Social Security Claiming Strategies and the CSSCS Board of Standards has built the training curriculum and testing program in accordance with the guidelines set forth by the National Commission for Certifying Agencies, Institute for Credentialing Excellence.

Meet Our Leaders

Our expert team at the Corporation for Social Security Claiming Strategies is uniquely qualified, not only to build the most comprehensive, advisor-centric, educational program in the Social Security retirement space, but deliver ongoing, real time support to those advisors who enroll at either the Gold or Platinum level.

Cheryl Robertson, JD – President and Founder

Cheryl graduated from Northeastern University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Criminal Justice. She received her J.D. from Roger Williams University School of Law, where she was proud to have served as Managing Editor of the Roger Williams University Law Review and was pleased to have been selected as a member of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities. Upon graduation, Cheryl began her legal career as an Associate with a labor and employment firm in Boston, Massachusetts and subsequently opened a private practice in Providence, Rhode Island. Cheryl stepped away from the practice of law upon the birth of her first child and stayed home for the next 10 years raising what grew to be her delightful family of five children. Upon returning to the workforce, Cheryl took the steps necessary to become a licensed financial services professional and quickly realized the vast majority of current and prospective retirees did not have access to the advice and resources required to make an educated decision on, what in most cases, will prove to be one of the most critical financial decisions they'll ever make; when and how to claim Social Security retirement benefits. To that end, she utilized her finely honed legal skills to research, design and author an educational platform to do just that: provide advisors with the information, tools, skills and ongoing support they need to become experts in building retirement income plans founded on the guarantees of Social Security. In 2013, the Corporation for Social Security Claiming Strategies was formed and one year later, A Comprehensive Guide to Social Security Benefits and Social Security Claiming Strategies was launched endeavoring to provide advisors with the knowledge necessary to advise clients on the intricacies of the Social Security system and teach them to utilize that information as the foundation for retirement income plans sustainable throughout their client's lifetime and beyond.

Once again, Stephanie’s performance was exceptional as evidenced by the numerous awards and recognition she received from her corporate and individual clients. These awards include the prestigious “Extra Mile” award given by the Mental Health Association of Westchester, New York. In addition to the recognition she received for her advocacy work by her clients and even while working in the private sector, Stephanie was also recognized by the Social Security Administration for her efforts to expose a systemic flaw in the claims paying procedures for certain beneficiaries.
